Tasting profile

It has a straw yellow hue with slight coppery highlights. The nose is fragrant, intense and characteristic, with delicate scents of hedgerow and honeysuckle that evolve into fruity notes of ripe pear, to finish with a top note of bread crust and yeast. The palate is delicate, pleasingly fresh and well balanced with a nice backbone and savory mineral. It is dry but graceful, pleasantly bitter but full and round, with a very tantalizing aromatic long finish.
